Educational Displays

The Read to Me program circulates two educational traveling displays to Idaho libraries and community organizations. The displays generally circulate for up to two weeks and we allow a week on each end for delivery. Funding from the Library Services and Technology Act makes it possible to ship the display to and from locations in Idaho without fees at the local level. The displays have been very popular and advanced booking is strongly recommended if you have a special event where you'd like to feature a display. For more information about the displays, see <http://libraries.idaho.gov/node/423>.

READ TO ME DISPLAYS
